A Guide to Food Resources in our Community

Naugatuck and Beacon Falls

As of June 30th 2017

A guide from United Way of Naugatuck and Beacon Falls

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

This guide was made possible through the collaborative efforts led by the United Way of Naugatuck and Beacon Falls, the Naugatuck Social Services Network and the Naugatuck Partnership for Children Food Security Task Force. ¹ In addition, we graciously thank the Valley United Way for their contribution of the initial template for this guide.

About This Guide

This guide was developed as part of a report on hunger and food security commissioned by the United Way of Naugatuck and Beacon Falls and the Naugatuck Partnership for Children Food Security Task Force. Its purpose is to provide an overview of the food resources available in our communities of Naugatuck and Beacon Falls, and to communicate the ways that you can help others or help yourselves to access food when you need it.

A Few Facts about Food Security

Food security is defined as the ability to reliably access a sufficient amount of affordable and nutritious food.

One in seven children in the United States suffers from food insecurity. In Connecticut, the most recent statistics on food insecurity state the number of individuals living at or below the federal poverty level is 10%. That means over 359,000 individuals in this state alone lack the ability to access affordable and nutritious food on a regular basis. In Naugatuck and Beacon Falls that number translates to almost 3,000 people, with over 26% under the age of 18. With a total population of almost 38,000 people between the two valley towns, almost 1,000 of those individuals are children who go to bed hungry.

The Ecumenical Food Bank in Naugatuck served 8,875 people, 110,880 meals, 707 families and distributed 15,814 bags of food and 283 Holiday baskets in the year 2015 alone.

Resource Guides from 2-1-1

Below and on the following pages are resource guides from 2-1-1 on the topics of Government Surplus Food, School Meal Programs, Summer Food Programs, Food Stamps/SNAP, and WIC. The guides are current as of June 2017, and the most up-to-date versions can always be found on the 2-1-1 website at <http://www.211ct.org/>.

GOVERNMENT SURPLUS FOOD

There are many government programs that utilize surplus food to feed people in need.

- The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) acquires agricultural commodities through price support programs, surplus removal, and direct purchases from national markets.
- These commodities are distributed through the USDA to the states and sometimes directly to local programs that provide food to people in need.
- In Connecticut, eligible schools, charitable institutions, summer camps, and agencies that operate surplus food distribution programs apply directly to the USDA for surplus foods.
- The Connecticut Department of Social Services administers The Emergency Food Assistance Program (TEFAP) which distributes surplus foods to food banks, which, in turn, give food to member soup kitchens, homeless shelters, and food pantries that provide food to individuals and households.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE FOR SURPLUS FOOD?

- Connecticut agencies serving specific groups (such as nursing homes serving the elderly, or day care centers serving preschool children)
- Connecticut homeless shelters, soup kitchens, and food pantries.

HOW TO FIND PROVIDERS IN CONNECTICUT'S COMMUNITY RESOURCES DATABASE

Visit www.211ct.org and search by service name for Commodity Supplemental Food Program

HOW TO OBTAIN SERVICE:

Ask at child's school to see if the school offers this program; if so, obtain an application form from the school. Forms can be mailed to parents or sent home with the children. Parents who receive TFA or SNAP (food stamps) can put their State Assistance ID # on the form. They do not have to fill out the income section because if eligibility has been determined already for TFA or SNAP.

they are categorically eligible for free school meals.

TIMETABLE:

Parents/guardians can apply for free/reduced meals at any time during the school year.

WILL OTHER KIDS KNOW THAT MY CHILD IS GETTING A FREE MEAL?

All children receive the same meal and use the same eating facility regardless of what they are paying for the meals. It is illegal for students getting a free or reduced price meal to be given special meal tickets, be made to use different lines or rooms, or be given a different choice of food.

PROGRAM ADMINISTRATION:

The Food Stamp program (now known as SNAP) is a federal program administered by the US Department of Agriculture and managed in Connecticut by the Department of Social Services (DSS). The following is summarized from the DSS website

USDA WEBSITE ON ELIGIBILITY

INCOME RESTRICTIONS

- Beginning July 1, 2009, income limit for most households is 185% of the Federal Poverty Level (FPL), with no net income or asset limit. Households with an elderly (ages 60+) or disabled member do not have to meet a gross income limit. Instead, shelter, medical, and other qualifying expenses are deducted from gross income. If the gross income of an elderly/disabled household is below 185%
- FPL, there is no asset test and there is no net income test. However, if the elderly/disabled household's income exceeds 185% FPL, the net income after allowable deductions cannot be more than 100% FPL and they cannot have more than $3,250 in countable assets.
- Combat pay is not included as income.

ASSET RESTRICTIONS

- Elderly or disabled households with gross income over 185% FPL is $3,250. There is no asset limit if gross income is at or below 185% of FPL.

- Not all assets count toward the asset limit.
- The value of a house a person owns and lives in is not counted and a lien is not placed on a home.
- Retirement accounts are not counted as assets.
- Car value is NOT counted as an asset.

WHERE DO PEOPLE APPLY?

Apply for SNAP at the DSS office that serves your town or download an application at <http://www.ct.gov/dss/lib/dss/pdfs/applications/w-1e.pdf> and mail it in. Applicants can do their required interview by phone; it is not necessary to go to a DSS office.

- Note: The Community Health Centers located throughout the state are designated SNAP Outreach sites and they can assist with eligibility screening. For a list of locations, see the 2-1-1 database: Benefits Assistance * Food Stamp/SNAP Recipients
- If disabled and unable to go to a DSS office, you can request that an authorized representative apply for you.
- People who apply for or receive SSI can apply for SNAP at the Social Security office located nearest their home.

WHAT DOCUMENTS ARE NEEDED?

- Identification
- Proof of citizenship or refugee status.

Legal immigrants with permanent residence status ("green card") should call to ask what documentation is required.

Proof of earned and unearned income

- For elderly/disabled households whose income exceeds 185% FPL, documentation of countable assets (bank account statements, stocks, bonds, CDs, etc.
- Social Security numbers for everyone in the household.
- Verification of shelter expenses, such as rent receipt or lease, and utility bills.
- Verification of out-of-pocket child and dependent care expenses
- Verification of court ordered child support payments
- Elderly/disabled households should also verify out-of-pocket medical expenses.

HOW LONG DOES IT TAKE TO GET SNAP?

- The DSS office must act on applications within 30 days of the date a person submits a signed application. Eligible households will have benefits in their EBT account within four days of the date that DSS grants their application.
- In emergency situations, person may be eligible for Expedited SNAP, which can be obtained within 7 days instead of 30 days. (See EXPEDITED SNAP, below.)
- The 30-day period begins the day that the signed application is received in the DSS office. Also, the first month of SNAP is prorated from the day that the application is signed, so it is very important to at least put name and address on the application, SIGN it, and submit it to the appropriate DSS office, even if the applicant needs to provide more information and/or documentation to support the application.

EXPEDITED SNAP (also known as EMERGENCY FOOD STAMPS)

Some people can get SNAP benefits within seven days of the date they apply. To qualify for Expedited SNAP a person must:

- Have income less than $150 per month and assets of $100 or less.
- OR have monthly rent/mortgage and utility expenses that are more than total monthly income plus liquid assets.
- OR be a destitute migrant or seasonal farm worker
- ID is the only documentation required for the first month of expedited SNAP

ELECTRONIC BENEFITS TRANSFER (EBT)

All benefits are issued into the recipient's EBT account. If your last name starts with A-F, you will receive benefits on that 1st of the month; G-N on the 2nd, and O-Z on the 3rd. Benefits are issued on these dates even if it's a holiday or weekend.

When granted SNAP, an EBT card is mailed to you, along with instructions on how to set up your PIN (Personal Identification Number). This number is your secret code that allows only you to access your benefits. If you give this number to someone else, they can access your benefits if they have your card. Keep your PIN number safe and do not keep it with your card.

Benefits removed from your EBT account will not be replaced. If you lose your EBT card, you must contact your worker to get a new card. If your card is stolen, you must call 1-888-328-2666 and report it stolen so that the EBT card can be cancelled immediately.

WHAT IS THE APPEAL PROCESS IF SNAP BENEFITS ARE DENIED?

Request for appeal of a denial must be made within 90 days of the date of the decision notice. Request a hearing by calling the Fair Hearing Unit at 1-800-462-0134 or write to: Fair Hearing Unit, Department of Social Services, 25 Sigourney Street, Hartford, CT 06106.

WIC - WOMEN, INFANTS, AND CHILDREN PROGRAM

The most up-to-date version of this guide can always be found online at

<http://www.211ct.org/InformationLibrary/Documents/WIC%20cw.asp>

WIC is a federal grant program administered nationally by the U.S. Department of Agriculture www.fns.usda.gov/wic/ and at the state level by the Connecticut State Department of Public Health www.ct.gov/dph/wic

WIC is not an entitlement program. Congress does not set aside funds to allow every eligible individual to participate in the program. It is a grant program for which Congress authorizes a specific level of funding each year.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION:

WIC provides specific nutritious foods and nutrition education to eligible pregnant women, postpartum women up to six months regardless of how pregnancy ends, breastfeeding women up to one year after delivery, and infants and children up to their fifth birthday. WIC participants receive monthly checks for the purchase of infant cereal, iron-fortified adult cereal, vitamin C-rich fruit or vegetable juice, eggs, milk, cheese, peanut butter, dried and canned beans/peas, canned fish, soy-based beverages, tofu, fruits and vegetables, baby foods, whole wheat bread, and other whole-grain products. Foods covered may depend upon the nutritional needs of the individual.

Recipients are re-certified every six months to determine if medical or nutritional risk exists. Recipients receiving WIC benefits in Connecticut must be state residents, but U.S. Citizenship or permanent residency status is not required.

ELIGIBILITY:

- Pregnant and up to 6 months postpartum or up to 12 months if breastfeeding.
- Child/children up to their fifth birthday.
- Income at or below 185% of the Federal Poverty Level. (NOTE: A pregnant woman is counted as 2 when determining family size; 3 if she is carrying twins, etc.)
- Must be at nutritional risk.
- Must be a Connecticut resident.
- It is not necessary to be a U.S. citizen or a documented immigrant.

OTHER WIC INFORMATION:

- If applicant lives with her/his parents and he/she is not on Healthy Start/Medicaid or does not have a job, the parent's income is counted.

- An unborn child is counted in family size when determining income eligibility.
- WIC checks do not reduce SNAP benefits (food stamps).
- Food is prescribed according to the nutritional and developmental needs of the recipients.
- Checks must be picked up in person.
- Checks have expiration dates and must be used before expiration.
- Participants are given appointment times for nutrition education and the issuance of additional checks.
- Many stores accept the checks.
- Checks do not have a dollar amount; food items and amounts are specified on the vouchers, and these items can be bought regardless of the price.
- WIC Unit at the Connecticut Department of Public Health authorizes retailers to be able to accept WIC checks as payment for food.
- Between July and October, WIC recipients also receive $15 coupons to buy fruits and vegetables at local farmers' markets.

WIC - Satellite clinics by appointment only:

Thursdays (2 per month) 9am - 3 pm
Naugatuck Senior Citizen Center
300 Meadow Street
Naugatuck, Ct. 06770
203-888-1271

WAITING LIST/PRIORITY SYSTEM:

Sometimes, WIC agencies do not have enough money to serve everyone who needs WIC or calls to apply. When this happens, WIC agencies must keep a waiting list of individuals who want to apply and are likely to be served. WIC agencies then use a special system, called a Priority System, to determine who will get WIC benefits first when more people can be served. The purpose of the priority system is to make sure that WIC services and benefits are provided first to participants with the most serious health conditions such as anemia (low blood levels), underweight, and history of problems during pregnancy. WIC participants who move from one area or state to another are placed at the top of a waiting list when they move and are also served first when the WIC agency can serve more individuals. WIC participants who move can continue to receive WIC benefits until their certification period expires as long as there is proof that the individual received WIC benefits in another area or state. Before a participant moves, they should tell the WIC office. In most cases, WIC staff will give the participant a special card which proves that the individual participated in the WIC program. When the individual moves, they can call the new WIC office for an appointment and take the special card to the WIC appointment in the new area or state.

HOW TO APPLY:

Contact your local WIC office; (Note: There is no direct service at the Connecticut Department of Public Health)

FAIR HEARING

Anyone who has been denied WIC eligibility has the right to a fair hearing. Request for a hearing must be made within 60 days of the denial of benefits.
